

SDS TAKES COMPLIANCE SERIOUSLY.

WITH COMPLIANCE COMES SAFETY AND A COMPETITIVE EDGE.

THE CHALLENGE

Often changing laws and policies introduce complexities into business models. In this case, a legal claims corporation was required to comply with FISMA (Federal Information Security Management Act) to continue to grow its business with the federal government.

The company engaged SDS to deliver FISMA compliance requirements and accomplish these tasks within an aggressive time line. Making the task more challenging, a Unified Control framework mapped with PCI DSS, HIPAA and NIST controls was also requested during the same timeframe. Meeting both goals positions the company to new business opportunities while satisfying existing clients.

THE OUTCOME

SDS delivered the Unified Control Framework on time and under budget and the client received acceptance from governing entities. To inform and obtain top-level executive buy-in, SDS presented compliance status for all three regulations. SDS also delivered a remediation plan for the client to meet controls identified in the Unified Control framework.

The client of SDS won additional business and further positioned itself for larger market share and a greater competitive advantage.

Experience and certification in multiple levels of security management means SDS can coordinate a successful Unified Control Framework. Most importantly - the framework directly serves business objectives.
